Meeting Guide App Update

This Meeting Guide update is part of a series of communications that are intended to help you stay informed about any changes or enhancements to the Meeting Guide app.

It's been a while since our last update, and we appreciate your patience. We've been working hard behind the scenes on a new feature designed to make it easier to find online A.A. meetings. We're now seeking beta testers to help us fine-tune this update. If you're interested in participating, read on below to learn how you can join the beta test using your own mobile device.

Seeking Beta Testers

We're getting ready to test a proposed update that will make it easier to find online A.A. meetings.

This beta test will be short and flexible, and you'll use your own mobile device. Participants will need to install a beta version of the app. If you're interested please click the link below to complete a brief participation application.

Support Spotlight

As we get closer to releasing our new online meeting feature, it's more important than ever to make sure your meeting data is accurate. We've noticed that some online meetings are still being listed as "Temporarily Closed," which can confuse members looking for meetings.

Please review your group's meeting listings and remove any "Temporarily Closed" status from meetings that are actively happening online. Accurate meeting information helps everyone find the support they need—thank you for helping keep Meeting Guide reliable.

Up Next

Our team is preparing for the live release of the new online meeting feature. Over the coming months, we'll be fine-tuning the experience based on your beta test feedback. Stay tuned for updates—we're excited to roll this out soon!
